Bill Montana Has A Winner!

Forcing Pendulum

Bill Montana never ceases to amaze me, both with the effects that he researches and produces, and equally with respect to how well they work.

This new Forcing Pendulum is a very affordable utility prop which will serve you exceptionally well. While discussing the uses of it with Bill (other than the obvious), he touched on one that we have to share with you. Sometimes, when he is doing readings, the client will ask a very powerful question—the pendulum serves as another authority to convey the right answer, much better than if it came from the reader.

- No Magnets. • No Threads. • No Electronics. • Completely Self-Contained.
- Pendulum can be handed out for inspection before and after.

In fact, it looks like a normal-style of pendulum that is sold in New Age shops all over the world.

However, this pendulum has one main difference when used—you will know the outcome right after you hand it to the person—before the pendulum even begins to swing. The pendulum can move in many different directions; however, from the very start it is able to determine this movement before it happens, which enables the performer to predict the outcome for a “yes”, “no” or “maybe” question, prior to its first movement.

This pendulum has been specially modified using a secret manufacturing process. In fact, this process involves four different processes to make the Forcing Pendulum which are kept secret at this time. In the instructions for this item, you will be taught how to use this clever, yet simple device, but will not learn much at all in the way as to how it was crafted from a standard pendulum.

Best of all you can use it or you can place it in the hands of a spectator for them to use. This pendulum may also be used as a normal pendulum. Pendulum is made from copper-plated steel.

Buma's Masterpiece

(Silent, Original, Suspension)

A strategically engineered gimmick never made before and is truly innovative!

The performer borrows any bill and while holding the bill at tips of both hands asks a spectator to pick up a glass full of any liquid and to place it on one end of the bill. Viola...the performer lets go of one end and the glass of liquid is sitting suspended on top of the bill and no spilling occurs.

Nothing collapses! Nothing falls to the ground! IMPOSSIBLE, but true.

The glass is removed and the bill is returned immediately to the spectator. Easy to master. No sleeve work! No threads, wires, magnets or mirrors! No sleights! Nothing to break! No parts to replace! Always ready to perform and fits in your pocket. All items are borrowed and may be repeated at once. Excellent impromptu magic. Hundreds sold! A winner at MAGIC LIVE! P.S. You can do the effect with a cell phone as well!

Cleopatra's Necklace

An ancient Egyptian necklace decorated with 10 golden cartouches is shown. The cartouches are inscribed 0 through 9 on their rear. The necklace is placed on a table number side down displaying their identical hieroglyphic design. The cartouches are then randomly moved around the necklace's ring by a spectator, allowing their order to be mixed up. The performer turns his back enabling a spectator to move any quantity of cartouches 0 up to 9 around the necklace's ring one side to the other, leaving them repositioned so the performer can have no idea how many cartouches have just been moved. Once this has been completed, the performer turns around and immediately flicks over one of the cartouches number side up inwardly to the center of the necklace's ring, to the amazement of all, the exposed inscribed number displays the exact number of how many cartouches have just been moved.

Important Note: This is a multi-phase routine. Each effect crescendo's until the finale. We strongly encourage you to review our website for complete details.

The Chicken Sandwich

Hungry for a great comedy prop?! Bite into some fun with this gag. David is now offering one of the funniest sight gags ever created. The Chicken Sandwich is brought to the forefront of comedy again after many years. Children as well as adults will be amused by this well timed pun. In the past, these were made entirely from flimsy "felt" material. This Chicken Sandwich is all hand cut, sanded, painted and assembled in wood one by one. Built to last a lifetime.

Can be viewed from all angles as front and back are both painted to represent a "chicken". Priced way too low for the amount of workmanship involved. Easy to use, Just lift top up and down to open and close. Get yours now. Don't be "chicken" to try it. These won't last long as they are individually handmade.

Viking Miracles

Amazing

A small wooden box is displayed along with its loose top and bottom. There are two holes in the opposite sides of the box through which a length of cord or ribbon is threaded. The bottom is replaced and a borrowed wedding band is placed within the box, lid now being replaced.

The spectator holds onto each end of the cord, yet the impossible happens. The lid and base are removed and the ring is found threaded on the cord! This has taken place even though the cord is found to be in one piece and held by the spectator.

Box and cord may be examined. Beautifully executed in walnut, hand-crafted. Comes complete with box, cord and instructions. Use any ring—not provided.

Enchanted Cylinders

Way back in the 70's Jan's Magic came up with a very neat effect called the Enchanted Cylinders. They have been off the market for many years, but we have decided to bring them back in typical Viking quality.

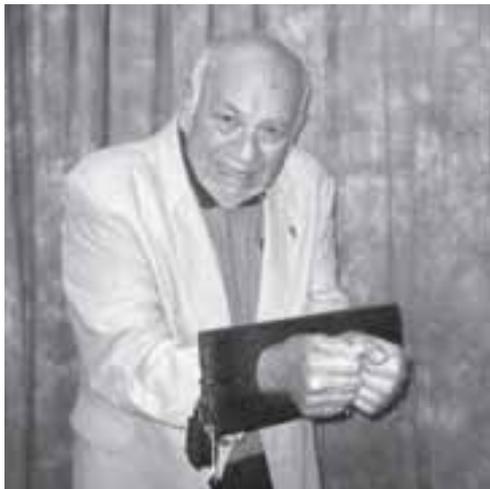

Two cylinders are shown. One is obviously longer than the other, but otherwise, they are similar in appearance. An object, in this case a small pencil is inserted into the shorter of the two tubes. The tubes are placed on the table and the performer passes his hand over them. The spectator now opens the shorter tube and finds that the pencil has vanished! The spectator now opens the longer tube and finds the missing pencil.

Our Enchanted Cylinders are turned from solid brass. They are beautiful to behold. The action is almost automatic. No real sleights. No switches with an extra tube. The effect is done in your hands and with no awkward moves, etc. The pencil can be marked, or other similar objects can be used. Use two different colored pencils to cause a transposition effect. Tubes measure approximately 4.5-inches and 5-inches respectively.

Louie Gaynor Exclusives

Old English Wrist Stocks

Now You Can Be A Houdini!

People still like escape effects! You have one here that is quick and easy to perform! A fast and sensational escape illusion! Great for stage or parlor!

Here's how it goes... Performer asks for assistance of one or two spectators. The stocks are examined and a colorful story is told about these inescapable restraints. (Even Houdini had trouble escaping from these simple stocks?) Placed on a spectator, there is no way they can get out of them, without the simple secret! Then the performer is locked into the ominous looking stocks. The un-gaffed antique looking four lever English padlocks are placed and closed on the performer's wrists! The artist's confined arms are now hidden from view for just a moment by either a screen or even a 36-inch silk and the performer walks free displaying the still locked restraints in his hands!

Built by master craftsman, Louie Gaynor, this clever ideas was gleaned from a set of Thayer "Stocks of Solomon" made years ago, and is a limited edition sure to please any audience. Built from textured lightweight Redwood. Sturdy and built to last. No reset, always ready to go.

Classic Monkey Bar

You demonstrate a Monkey Bar with a Ring Tail Monkey hanging on one end. You tell the kids that this is an Acrobatic Monkey and that he has the ability to jump from one end to the other and back again. You demonstrate this great phenomenon by placing the Monkey Bar behind your back and then bringing it out to show the ring has jumped to the other end! But, boy do the howls start coming as the kids are sure that all you did was just turn the bar around? After playing this up for all it's worth...you ask the kids; "Well, where would you like the Monkey to jump too?" They all holler out.. "Put it in the middle!!" The finale is that this time when you pass it behind your back and bring it back out...Viola...the ring has indeed now jumped to the middle!

Ballot Box Mystery Another Magical—Mental— Mystery

Sweet and simple... Three different colored balls are shown. A spectator is asked to place one of them into the small ballot box which the performer holds behind his back. Then the spectator is asked to concentrate on the color of their choice (after concealing the other two balls). Both box and balls may be examined at any time, yet the performer is always able to call the color of any ball placed into the Ballot Box.

Masterfully recreated for those with a love for apparatus and an affinity for Thayer. Imagine this beautiful piece, (a Thayer/Owens original) resting on your shelf at home. This piece has been painstakingly recreated by Louie Gaynor under the authorization and permission from Owens Magic Supreme. Can be done blindfolded. Self-working, instantly repeatable and exceptionally deceptive.

Miser's Dream Box With Magnetic Wand

Here comes an effect using
"repulsion technology."

The performer opens the box showing it empty and dumps it over to prove nothing is inside. He closes the lid and makes a miser's wish and upon re-opening it discovers a real quarter inside the box! This can be repeated—up to three more times (allowing the magician to produce up to four quarters or other coins of similar size). As a finale, the box is closed once more whereupon the miser makes an ever greater wish and sure enough upon opening the lid the box now contains—four half dollars.

UPGRADE: This item now comes with this custom-crafted, gimmicked wand (shown in photo). It's a brilliant way to also perform the effect. The wand itself is beautifully crafted as only Louie can do! This gives you the choice to perform the effect either using the gimmicked wand or the other gimmicked method traditionally supplied. Both will be included in this upgraded set.

Mentalism Miracles

Ludovic Mignon's Hotel

You give the spectator an envelope containing a prediction. You then hand the spectator a stack of business cards you've collected from various hotels you've stayed at over the years. While your back is turned, the spectator goes through the cards one at a time. He chooses one and puts it in its pocket. Once you turn back around to face the spectator, you immediately know which hotel he has chosen!

Now you decide to take the experiment to the next level. The spectator goes through the stack of business cards again. Again he stops on the card of his choice. You then ask him to open the envelope, in which he finds a room key from the hotel he has just selected!

You receive: Business cards from various hotels around the world. Spectators will not question their authenticity. Every detail has been carefully thought out. The cards have been designed to do the heavy lifting for you! A 20-page instruction booklet in English (illustrated by Tony Dunn and designed by Benoit Drager) chock full of advice on presentation, additional tips. A real hotel room key designed specifically for this trick. Can be performed anywhere, under any conditions. Spectators really have a free choice.

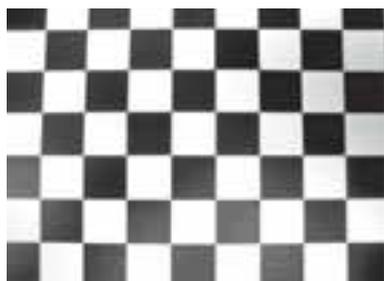

Auke Van Dokkum's Magic Squares

Performer introduces a single sheet of paper that is checker board with black and white squares. He displays the paper front and back to the audience who can be sitting very close. He then folds the paper in half and then in half again. And then takes a set of scissors and cuts it the very top triangular portion off. Then performs a series of cuts—after each cut he re-opens the fold to show the full pattern. The last cut is a cross cut and when the paper is opened what is revealed is two attached squares—naturally it being one piece of paper. What happens next—is amazing, the two squares are then independent of each other and are now linked! How is it possible to have two individual linked magic squares that came from one single piece of paper?

Each unit comes with 10 gimmicks, allowing you for 10 performances. Once you have the item, you can most likely learn how to create more of them—provided you have the time in this crazy fast-paced life! A diagram is also included with each package.

Great Stage Magic

Mighty Mini Chest Light Heavy Chest

Don't let the size fool you! A mere 6.5-inches x 6.5-inches x 4.5-inches, this little jewel has just as much weight as our full-size boxes. This light heavy chest is made of cabinet grade oak plywood and trimmed in solid oak and solid brass veneer.

This box will not wiggle between reset or when it is being lifted. It sets solid and totally silent. But that's not all! This box comes with one extra surprise. When the spectator tries to lift the box—Surprise! The handle comes right off in their hand! This was an addition suggested as a comedy effect by Award-Winning Magician Christopher Lyle. No harm done, just have them try to lift it by the sides—it won't even budge! The handle is held by magnets that adhere to a piece of steel built into the surface of the lid, so you can use the chest with or without the handle, and the box still looks great.

This miracle can be performed on a table, floor, bar, counter top! Invite a spectator up to “pick up the chest.” They cannot! Invite a small child or lady up. They CAN pick it up! Self Working—Easy to do! No Remotes! No Harness! No Stooges! No Magnets! Can be performed surrounded! Use any spectator! A marvelous piece of magic and the BEST of ALL similar effects! Well worth the money! You won't be disappointed!

The other knot is removed and when the silk is displayed, it is seen to have two big holes in it.

Quality silk and knots. Now complete with instructional DVD. Available in RED or YELLOW silk (if no color is chosen we will select for you).

Good comedy tricks are hard to come by, but here is one that is a surefire laughter raiser every time!

Nutty Surprise

This Will Drive You Crazy!!

Pete Biro and Dean Dill have taken the long-forgotten Peripatetic Walnuts of Dai Vernon and turned it into a strong routine with three walnuts.

It can be done close-up. Several routines are included. The basic plot is simple. You show three walnuts, a glass (not provided) and the bag you carry them in. One-by-one each walnut vanishes and appears in the glass (not provided), covered by the bag.

Very little skill is needed, just a false transfer and your ability to entertain. The climax is production of a HUGE STEEL NUT. It comes from nowhere, not loaded from your pocket, no palming. It is so simple. NUTTY SURPRISE includes all the walnuts needed, the big steel nut, a custom-made burgundy suede bag, a printed book of instructions and routines, a DVD with routines and presentation ideas and a humorous "con man" script by Walt Anthony. Use any glass that fits in the bag and a handkerchief of your choice. Comedy Linking Ring Saw Magician is frustrated, trying to get two linked rings apart. In desperation, he brings out a saw... and saws or cuts through a ring, but he's no farther ahead because now he not only hasn't gotten the rings apart, but the saw is now linked to the rings! Finally, he gets the saw loose and continues on with his routine.

Comedy Magic at its best! A favorite of Pete's for many years. At least 30 years ago, a small hacksaw was marketed in England, but they are no longer made, and the persons involved, long ago left the game. Previous models sold for $145, worth it to some but still high priced. I was able to put a couple prototypes together and showed them to some friends, and after doing so came up with a sizzling new method for this which I include. The product is easy to use, can be performed easily close-up and will work with just about any size rings from the popular 5-inch Ninja size, up to about a 10-inch ring. I have not tried it with larger rings, but would think it would work just as well.

In addition to the unique prop and written instructions, you will also receive a DVD showing some basic handling.

Performer starts with two caps and then introduces extra caps through the routine, and always the spectator cannot find the darn pea! At the end, the last cap is so TINY that you have to use TWEEZERS to remove the pea! You end up with 10 CAPS as a finale! SPECIAL TIPS—By Pete Biro and Dean Dill.

Okito Hindoo Inkwell

The Okito Hindoo Inkwell consists of an ornate inkwell stand, capable of creating two simultaneous and connected effects.

Between the glass inkwells is a lid that when lifted opens a cubby, ostensibly used for small desk supplies, paperclips, and such. Instead of these, a watch is borrowed from the audience, and placed within this cubby, and the lid replaced. In short order, the cubby is again opened, however, the watch has now transformed into something else, such as a lemon or a bread roll. The borrowed watch can be found elsewhere—Performer's choice.

This is truly an inspired piece, built from high quality Baltic Birch, enameled with black, blue, and gold, and adorned with oriental decal transfers, reminiscent of Okito's style of design. The cubby interior, as well as the inkwell holders are lined with velvet. The inkwells are fully usable, heavy, solid glass in a rich Cobalt blue, with silver metal tops.

Size of the stand is 13-inches length x 6-inches wide x 8.5-inches high, including the glass inkwells. Each piece is hallmarked with a brass plate.

Mystical Canisters Of Foo

The apparatus you now possess is a variation of a U.F. Grant effect commonly known as The Chink Cans. The basic premise is the same, but the tubes are now square and equal in size. The advantage of this over other rice bowls is that there is NO WATER needed—this is a big plus!

The effect is that two canisters are shown empty. One of them is filled to the brim with M&Ms (cereal, coins, rice or confetti, use your imagination). The two canisters are placed mouth to mouth, and when separated, the M&Ms have doubled in quantity. The M&Ms are leveled off and the mouth of that canister is covered with a square of paper, drumhead-style. When the paper is broken, a very large production of silks is made. The apparatus is entirely self-contained, and best of all, it is very easy to perform! The tubes are 3 x 3 x 6-inches each, made from Baltic Birch. They are painted periwinkle blue with black trim and all sides are adorned with multi-color images on marbled yellow backgrounds, with gold accents. Supply your own M&Ms (or other item) and silks.

By Choice & By Chance

A spectator is given a pair of dice and a dictionary containing thousands of words. A word will be chosen by choice and by chance.

The chance consists of rolling the dice to get random numbers. The choice is how the spectator chooses to use the numbers (e.g., She rolls 2 & 1. She could put them together to make a 3 or 12 or 21 or roll again and start over). Whatever she chooses, she turns to that page and thinks of the first word on the page. The performer knows the word instantly. No difficult memory work. Simple and staggering!

Brand New...

Intimate Secrets

By Alexander Nelson

After a long wait—we are happy to announce that there will be a second book from Alexander Nelson. His first book, was a limited printing and is out of print! That book was released in 2011. This latest book is slated for a late November 2013 release date. This book expounds on the talent and intuition that makes Alexander Nelson a very much “in demand” authority. Below are just some of the things included in this forthcoming book.

Feeling Energy: A technique that allows you to build up your psychic energy and give better readings.

Entering The Body: This a presentation that will amaze them. The psychic presentation gives them so much to think about and they may actually feel as if you entered their body—enabling you to give a very specific reading as a result. Leave them with a very eerie sensation.

Zodiac Reading: The easiest method ever created, so easy a five year old can do it!

Three Crystal Readings: They are always ready to go in your pocket—this one that is very unique and to our knowledge has never been executed.

Special Q & A: Exceptionally powerful yet so easy to do it will give you a reputation that is fit for king!

The Pendulum Choosing For Readings - to my knowledge, there is on one else that does this in the world!

Imaginative Mind Reading: Where nothing is needed everything is in their imagination as you do the reading—possibly the most incredible reading devised in history.

The Amusement Park Journey: Which takes the person on a journey via a very personal reading.

Journey To Atlantis: This is a journey where you actually take the person to Atlantis where he gets a reading of a light time.

Additional Contents: The Alexander Sensing Q&A— nothing needed and so strong! Anywhere anytime. And also the greatest tips for being a master reader, and techniques if you want to do it for real or for fun (both of which will help build your intuition) and much more. Quite possibly the most unusual book every written on the subject! Soft covered and approximately 60 pages.
